DISCIPLINARY POLICY

The Club has introduced this policy to ensure that in the event of a situation arising that requires disciplinary action to be taken it has a procedure to follow that will ensure a fair hearing for all parties involved. In the event of a grievance a member will know their right to appeal. Club members are expected to observe all Club rules and to behave in a reasonable way to other Club members, members of other rowing Clubs and members of the public. The need for disciplinary action may arise for a variety of reasons but will be typically categorised as Minor Offences or Gross Misconduct. Examples are listed below but these are provided for guidance only and are not intended to be exhaustive.

1. MINOR OFFENCES Failing to observe the Club rules. Failure to follow a reasonable instruction from an officer of the Club. Bad sportsmanship Minor damage to or unauthorised use of Club property Unacceptable conduct (including the use of bad language) Endangering the health and safety of others

2. GROSS MISCONDUCT Bringing the Club or the sport of rowing into disrepute Theft Fraud Physical and mental assault, bullying, aggressive behaviour or excessive use of bad language wilful damage to Club or members property Possession of or being under the influence of illegal substances on Club premises or when representing the Club Carrying illegal or dangerous weapons Discrimination on the grounds of sex, race or disability Seriously endangering the health and safety of others.

3. PROCEDURE

a. Minor Offences Minor offences may be dealt with by an officer of the Club at the time, or as soon as possible after notification of the incident. A first warning should be given clearly stating the reasons why this action is being taken. If it is known that persistent minor offences are occurring the details should be written down and passed to the management committee for further consideration. The member should be informed that this course of action is being taken.

b. Gross Misconduct In the event of gross misconduct or persistent minor offences, the management committee should be informed as soon as practicable. The management committee will form a disciplinary sub-committee comprising two officers of the Club and at least one other member. The committee may co-opt other members if required, to provide expert and balanced opinion. Written minutes must be kept and passed to the Club secretary after the hearing. If necessary, the member (s) may be suspended from the Club during the investigation (see 3c below).

i. All aspects of the misconduct should be investigated as thoroughly as possible.

ii. Written witness statements should be obtained if required.

iii. Decide on the next course of action: -

1. Close the incident - no case to answer.

2. Close the incident with a verbal warning by an officer of the Club

3. Suspend the member(s) for a specified (written) period.

4. Call a disciplinary hearing at which the member(s) and all relevant witnesses should be present to give evidence.

Members will be entitled to have a representative of their choice present at the hearing. The sub-committee should ensure the member(s) are aware of this right.

Evidence may be given privately or with the witness's present, at the discretion of the disciplinary sub-committee, who should ensure fairness, impartiality, and safety for all those involved.

iv. After hearing the evidence the committee should, as soon as practicable, decide regarding the incident. This should take account of the severity of the incident, the availability of the relevant facts and any remorse shown.

- 1 Close the incident - no case to answer.
2. Close the incident with verbal warning by an officer of the Club.
3. Close the incident with a written warning explaining the reasons for this and warning the person(s) involved that further disciplinary action during the next 12 months may take this into account and lead to termination of membership.
4. Apply an appropriate punishment to the person(s) concerned (e.g. specified boat work, repair of damage caused, and ban from a specified number of Club events). Personal apologies should also be given by the member(s) to others involved, if appropriate.
5. Suspend the member for a specified period. This will include a written warning as described in 3 above.
- 6 Terminate the membership of the person(s) concerned. Written notice must be given to the member of this decision. All decisions of the disciplinary hearing and any appeals hearings will be binding on future management committees.

4. APPEALS

All member(s) subject to disciplinary proceedings will have the right to appeal. This right may be exercised by writing to the Club secretary who will call a full management committee meeting to hear the appeal. The rights of the member(s) at this appeal meeting are the same as stated above. The member(s) are entitled to a copy of the minutes of the disciplinary meeting.

GRIEVANCE PROCEDURE POLICY

The primary purpose of this grievance procedure is to enable employees and members to air any concerns that they may have about practices, policies or treatment from other individuals in the club, and to produce a speedy resolution where genuine problems exist. It is designed to help all employee / members to take the appropriate action, when they are experiencing difficulties, in an atmosphere of trust and collaboration. Although it may not be possible to solve all problems to everyone's complete satisfaction, this policy forms an undertaking by the Club that it will deal objectively and constructively with all employee / member grievances. Anyone who decides to use the procedure may do so with the confidence that their problem will be dealt with fairly. This grievance procedure is not a substitute for good day-to-day communication in the Club, where we encourage employee / members to discuss and resolve daily issues in a supportive atmosphere. Many problems can be solved on an informal basis very satisfactorily if all employee / members are prepared to keep the channels of communication between themselves open and working well. This procedure is designed to deal with those issues that need to be approached on more formal terms so that every means to a satisfactory solution can be explored and any decisions reached are binding and long lasting. Procedure If an employee / member cannot settle their grievance informally, then they should raise it formally. This procedure has been drawn up to establish the appropriate steps to be followed when pursuing and dealing with a formal grievance.

Stage 1 In the event of an employee / member having a formal grievance relating to their employment / involvement they should, in the first instance, put their complaint in writing and address it to their manager or appropriate committee member. Where their grievance is against their manager or a committee member, then their complaint should be addressed to an alternative manager or committee member or to the club secretary. A manager or committee member (who may not be the person to whom their grievance was addressed) will then invite the employee / member to attend a grievance meeting to discuss their grievance and they have the right to be accompanied at this meeting by a colleague of their choice. Every effort will be made to arrange the grievance meeting at a time which is convenient for the employee / member and their colleague to attend. If this means that the meeting cannot be held within a reasonable period (usually within five working days of the original date set), we ask that the employee / member make arrangements with another colleague who is available to attend. Any employee / member who are chosen to accompany another in a grievance hearing should take all reasonable steps to attend the grievance meeting. Following the meeting, the Club will Endeavour to respond to the employee / member's grievance as soon as possible and, in any case, within five working days of the grievance meeting. If it is not possible to respond within this time, then the employee / member will be given an explanation for the delay and be told when a response can be expected. The employee / member will be informed in writing of the Club's decision on the grievance and notified of their right to appeal against that decision if they are dissatisfied with it.

Stage 2 In the event that the employee / member feels that the grievance has not been satisfactorily resolved, then they may appeal in writing to an Officer of the Club within five working days of the grievance decision. On receipt of the appeal letter, an officer (who again may not be the person to whom the employee / member's appeal was addressed) shall make arrangements to hear their grievance at an appeal meeting and at this meeting the employee / member, may again, be accompanied by a colleague of their choice. All reasonable steps should be taken to attend the grievance appeal meeting. Following the meeting, the officer will endeavour to respond to the employee / member's grievance as soon as possible and, in any case, within five working days of the appeal hearing. If it is not possible to respond within this time, then the employee / member will be given an explanation for the delay and be told when a response can be expected. The employee / member will be informed in writing of the Club's decision on their grievance appeal. This is the final stage of the grievance procedure and the Club's decision shall be final. Former employee / members Grievances may also be raised by ex-employee / members after their employment / membership has ended. In this case, the grievance procedure set out above will continue to apply, unless both parties agree in writing that a modified form of grievance procedure will apply instead. However, if the former employee / member's complaint relates to their dissatisfaction with a dismissal decision, then they should not invoke the grievance procedure but should instead appeal against that decision in accordance with the appeal procedure within the Disciplinary Policy.

1. The racking space shall remain the property of Christchurch Rowing Club (CRC)
2. Allocation of racking space shall be undertaken by the Rowing Committee of CRC under guidance from the Management Committee.
3. Allocation shall be for one year at a time coinciding with subscription year. An existing rack holder will not need to reapply for use of the rack for the following year.
4. All rack holders will be Full rowing members of CRC unless otherwise specifically agreed by the Rowing Committee.
5. CRC reserves the right to ask a member to remove their boat from any rack for whatever reason CRC thinks fit. The rack holder will be given one months' notice in writing and any appeal against this decision should be made through Rowing Committee during this time. If the boat has not been removed by the owner within this timescale and no valid appeal is progressing, the Rowing Committee shall arrange for the boat to be removed and stored safely elsewhere.
6. If necessary, Rowing Committee will maintain a list of members wishing to take over a rack when one becomes available on a first come first served basis. Should a member lose their rack through (5) above or (10) below they can apply to the Rowing Committee to be placed on the waiting list behind any other members already waiting.

RACKING FEES;

7. Racking fee shall be individual to the member and not relate to any specific boat.
8. Racking fee shall be determined each year by the Management Committee and advised at the same time as forthcoming membership fees.
9. Racking fee shall be payable on first October covering the following year or part thereof, although monthly payment by standing order may be made at the discretion of the Management Committee
10. If the fee remains outstanding after one month the membership secretary will send one reminder only.
11. If the racking fee has not been paid after one further month (i.e. 1st December) the boat may be removed from the rack as (5) above, the reminder acting as one month notice.
12. Rowing Committee may recommend to Management Committee that some proportion of the racking fee paid by the member be rebated each year, if that member provides services to the club, over and above normal rowing membership (e.g. Rowing Management Committee membership, regular coaching, regular coxing, although this list is not exhaustive).
13. If a member sells his boat to another CRC member, who then wishes to retain the racking space, he may do so subject to approval by the Rowing Committee which would not normally be refused notwithstanding that there may already be a waiting list.
14. The member must maintain adequate Third Party Liability insurance and it is recommended that they also have their own boat insurance. (They are NOT covered by CRC club insurance.)

Other Considerations;

- 15. Due care must be exercised towards other boats when removing and replacing the boat.
- 16. Show respect must be shown to other water users when sculling.
- 17. It is the owner's responsibility to clearly mark all personal equipment to avoid mistaken use by other club members.

I confirm that I have read and understood the above terms and conditions and agree to abide by them
